COUNCIL ADVISED GOVERNMENT STAYS WITH 30c RATE

The local relief matters were thrashed out quite fully on Thursday last, when the commission, Messrs. Duck, Mackenzie and Livingstone advised the council that they were staying with their original plan to pay a portion of a thirty cents an hour rate, but would not pay any more than ten cents provincial plus ten cents federal towards the hourwork rate. Also that the thirty cents allowed had to be worked out. Clauses of the agreement are:

1. The province will require the municipality's recipients of direct relief to work for the relief at the rate of 30 cents per hour.
2. If the municipality wish to supplement relief allowed under the agreements and schedules of the province, by goods, or cash, or both, it will be no concern of the province, but will become a direct responsibility of the Town Council to the ratepayers they represent.

3. The responsibility of issuing relief will rest with the council of the municipality and not with the province, which will only contribute to relief as the municipality requests after the government has satisfied itself as to the necessity or the urgency of the case.

The session here was attended by a delegation only of the unemployed, and was held at the court house, so that the demonstration staged at the union hall, for which children were unlawfully kept away from school, saw little of the commission.

Inspector Duncan, of the R.O.M.P., and G. E. Cruickshank, M.L.A., were in attendance.

FORMER BLAIRMOREITE DIES AT VANCOUVER

Arthur Cummings received word last Saturday of the death of his mother, Mrs. J. N. Hueston, in Vancouver early that morning from a stroke—the second—having suffered the first one four months previously.

Mrs. Hueston, whose maiden name was Patterson, was born in Quebec, and was 69 years of age, and had been married twice. She came to Okotoks in 1900, and has lived in the west continuously since that time. For a few years preceding their removal to Vancouver four years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Hueston had lived at Lethbridge, the removal to the coast being made because of the health of Mrs. Hueston, who was a sufferer from heart trouble. Mr. and Mrs. Hueston frequently visited Nanton while they lived at Blaimore.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hueston is survived by two sons—Arthur Cummings, of Nanton, and Norman Hueston, of Anyox, B.C.; also by five brothers living at Okotoks, and one at New Westminster, B.C., and a sister in Calgary.

The funeral and burial was at New Westminster, Monday, December 4th.—Nanton News.

RHODES - KENNIS

The marriage took place quietly at Lethbridge on Friday, December 8th, at Wesley United parsonage, when Helen Aileen Kennis, elder daughter of LL-Col. and Mrs. A. C. Kennis, of Pincher Creek and Waterton National Park, became the bride of Francis Leslie Rhodes, of Lethbridge. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. K. McMillin in the presence of a few relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes left on the evening train for New York, and will visit at San Francisco, via the Panama Canal, returning in a month's time to the city where they will take up residence at 652 - 11th St. S.

Mr. Rhodes is manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Lethbridge.

C. W. Burt has been re-elected mayor of Cardston.

ARENA CO. ANNUAL MEETING

The twelfth annual meeting of the shareholders and directors of the Blaimore Arena Co., Ltd., was held at the office of the Crows' Nest Pass Motors last evening. The meeting was presided over by the president, L. L. Morgan, and was well attended. The minutes of last annual meeting were read and approved, as were also reports from the auditor, secretary-manager and others. The financial position of the arena for the year 1932-33 was slightly on the debit side, but prospects for this season appeared to be somewhat brighter.

Three vacancies occurring on the board of directors through the expiration of terms of W. H. Chappel, G. A. Vissac and H. Pinkney, were filled by the three being unanimously re-elected. James Ringland was re-appointed ice-maker at the same terms as last season, dating from December the 1st. Robert Gray was re-elected secretary-manager, with a unanimous vote of thanks for his good work during the year, coupled with a well-deserved honorarium.

Fee for the Curling Club remains as in the previous year—$9.00 for the season.

Action of the directors in renewing fire insurance on the property was endorsed.

BLAIRMORE FIRST AID REORGANIZES

At a meeting of the Blaimore First Aid, held recently, the following officers were elected: J. Charbonnier, G. A. Vissac and J. A. Brusset, hon. presidents; L. P. Robert and R. Oakes, hon. vice-presidents; Harry Blake, president; W. North, vice-president; J. V. McDougall, secretary-treasurer. A motion was passed, expressing regret at the ill health of Moses Johnson.

Classes will commence on January the 7th, when a large enrolment is expected. The association will endeavor to have one or more teams enter the Dominion competitions next year.

M. H. Congdon will act as instructor, and Ed. Royle as lecturer.

FATHER OF BLAIRMORE DIES IN EDMONTON

John Carmichael, seventy-two, died suddenly a few weeks ago, after a brief illness at his home in Edmonton. Pioneer, civil servant, churchman and sportsman, his death was a shock to a wide circle of friends.

Although advanced in years and superannuated a little over a year ago, following twenty years' service in the customs of south Edmonton, he had enjoyed excellent health and last winter maintained his annual practice of skipping a rink in every bonspiel held here since 1913.

Mr. Carmichael had been an enthusiastic curler, a past president and secretary of the Seona curling club, of which he had been a member for twenty years prior to joining the Granites. Rated as a good curler, he also skipped a rink of veterans in the last cup competition of three years ago.

A member of Knox United church, the late Mr. Carmichael had been a member of sessions and board of management, also financial secretary. Born in Spencerville, Ont., March 16, 1871, he was married to Lydia M. Bennett of the home town. He first came west in 1890 and settled in the town of Strathcona in 1899, and was

LABOR OPPOSES NEW PLAN FOR NEWFOUNDLAND

London, Eng.—By an easy government majority of 227 votes to 38, the House of Commons passed a financial resolution which precedes general legislation implementing recommendations of the Newfoundland Royal Commission—temporarily withdrawing self-government until Newfoundland's finances are restored.

Despite the big majority however, the proposals got a mixed reception after they were outlined by Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who stressed the empire government had yet defaulted and Britain could not permit Newfoundland to do so, as would otherwise be inevitable.

The Labor opposition criticized the proposals sharply and there was a great mingling among the Conservative back-benchers.

The critics were directed alike against the assumption of new obligations by the British taxpayer and against the suspension of self-government in Newfoundland. One Labor member raised the old suggestion that Newfoundland be sold to Canada.

L. C. M. S. Amory, former secretary for the Dominions, urged the government should appoint the Newfoundland governing commission men determined to give a new outlook. Newfoundland had great undeveloped resources and she had land suitable for settlement, but a loan would be necessary to carry out a development scheme, he said.

On the other hand James Maxton, Labor left-winger, and other Labor members attacked the entire scheme as unbusinesslike and the idea of turning Newfoundland into an "El Dorado" as a "dream."

"The cold fact," said Maxton, "is that we are asked to assume the responsibility for a £20,000,000 debt for the creation of which we had no responsibility."

Morgan Jones, Welsh Laborite, sharply asked what the successive governments of Newfoundland had been doing during the years of misgovernment. Had they not reported conditions? What action was to be taken against them, he demanded. "I also talk," he added, "of religious denominations in the island are deserving the severest censure for their share in the matter."

Lord Winterston, while supporting the government's proposals, pressed for a declaration that assistance given to Newfoundland should not be regarded as a precedent.

From the government back benches, Lt.-Col. H. H. Spenderly opposed the proposals because he thought they should be taken as a precedent by other Dominions, and because suspension of self-government would, in his opinion, lead to eventual difficulties between the people and the commission.

The Irish Question

Matter Is Discussed In The House Of Lords

London, Eng.—Lord Hailsham, secretary for war, threw cold water on suggestions in the House of Lords that the United Kingdom recall its representative in the Irish Free State or that it raise the tariff wall against Free State goods. The suggestions were made during debate on the plight of British Loyalists resident in the Free State.

Answering a proposal of Lord Danefer, distinguished jurist, that the representative be withdrawn, Lord Hailsham said: "It is easier to break off relations than to find satisfactory means of re-establishing them." He added such a course would not be a "satisfactory or helpful step."

Liquor Exports

Canada Intends To Conform With U.S. Regulations

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada intends to keep liquor exports in conformity with United States regulations, it was demonstrated when orders were issued by customs collectors that bond releases would be made only when a certificate was presented from an American consul.

Under Washington liquor regulations, which will be observed by customs officers here, an importer must secure a license before buying foreign whiskey. As a double check, the Canadian distiller must have his invoice validated by the consul in his territory before the Canadian officials will release the liquor from the bonded warehouse.

Condemns Lynching

President Roosevelt Calls It Form Of Collective Murder

Washington.—President Roosevelt, in an address here, called lynching "a vile form of collective murder."

The president also indirectly rebuked Governor James Rolph, of California, who recently expressed approval of mob action in San Jose, California, which resulted in the death of two men.

"We do not excuse those in high places or in low who condone lynch law," Mr. Roosevelt said.

He did not, however, in his speech before the federal council of Churches of Christ in America, directly refer to the California lynching or to similar incidents recently in Missouri and Maryland.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed faith in the "new generation" as a preliminary to his strong condemnation of mob violence.

The president said the United States Government was seeking the goal the churches look toward, and that from "the bottom of my heart I believe that this beloved country is entering upon a time of great gain."

Might Solve Problem

Controlled Rearmament Of Germany Has Been Suggested

Geneva, Switzerland.—In the absence of the president of the disarmament conference, now in Paris to discuss direct negotiations, the opinion is voiced by many delegations remaining at Geneva that the probable solution of the crisis will be found in controlled rearmament of Germany.

A committee appointed to devise a system of control of armaments has concluded its examination of the problem.

Examination of armaments in all countries by spot investigation has been recommended to the committee by many delegates.

Chairman Burgin, of Belgium, will summarize the committee's suggestions. Definite recommendations are found to be difficult in the absence of Germany.

Direct, although secret, negotiations have been started between France and Germany. Their success, it is believed, will depend on whether France and Germany can reach a real political understanding. The European problem of reduction of armaments hinges directly on this.

Bushmen In Custody

Thirty-Five Strikers Trapped In Railway Coach And Placed Under Arrest

Fort William, Ont.—Trapped in the coach they had seized, 35 strike busworkers were in custody of Ontario Provincial police here on charges of vagrancy.

Outnumbered as the strikers quit camps in the Mabel district and boarded a Canadian National Railway train for here, police made efforts at conciliation when the invaders refused to pay fares.

Cries of "throw us off" arose from the men. The police, half a dozen in number, made an effort to remove the men from the train.

Instead, they left the coach. Quickly the doors were slammed shut and wired, windows were guarded and the train began to move. The men were held prisoners until the train reached here, where additional police arrived and placed them all in custody.

Successful Flight

Lindberghs Cross South Atlantic In Sixteen Hours

Natal, Brazil.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wireless-operating wife, the former Anne Morrow, have successfully flown the South Atlantic Ocean. They alighted on the harbor here at 3:10 p.m., Brazilian time (1:10 p.m., E.S.T.), after flying from Bathurst, Gambia, Africa, 1,875 miles away, in 16 hours, 10 minutes.

It was their first view of America since July 22 when they took off from Cartwright, Labrador, for Greenland, on a survey flight across the North Atlantic.

The whole population of Natal, its stores and offices closed for the festive welcome, its streets decorated, packed the waterfront.

With the alighting of the ship, Mrs. Lindbergh became the first woman to fly in an aeroplane across the South Atlantic.

Spread Of Oxford Movement

London, Eng.—Since 40 members of the Oxford group went to Canada a year ago the movement has spread across the Dominion and there are 150 groups in Toronto alone, declared London officials prominent in the Oxford group, at a special meeting at Westminster.

Dominions Get Data

Free To Comment On Question Of Ireland Leaving Empire

London, Eng.—The correspondence between the Irish Free State and British governments relative to the question of Irish separation from the Empire has been forwarded to all the Dominions for their information.

They are free to comment on it if they desire, but, as J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominions, emphasized in the House of Commons, there is no intention of dragging them into a domestic dispute.

Should President Eamon de Valera carry his quarrel to the point of actual declaration of a republic all members of the commonwealth would necessarily be involved. In that event an imperial conference would probably be summoned, but the question of separation here is considered so hypothetical that the method of consulting other Dominions in such a contingency has not arisen.

Dublin, Ireland.—Publication of the texts of notes exchanged between the Irish Free State and the British governments dispelled tension in the Free State and the belief increased there was little likelihood of a general election in the near future to vote on the question of secession from the empire.

Robt. Matthews Sworn In As Minister Of Natural Revenue

Ottawa, Ont.—Robert Charles Matthews, member of parliament for Toronto East Centre, has been sworn in as minister of natural revenue to succeed Hon. E. Ryckman, whose resignation, due to ill-health, was accepted recently.

The appointment was not unexpected, the name of Mr. Matthews having been prominently mentioned for the vacancy as soon as Mr. Ryckman's resignation was accepted.

Mr. Matthews lost no time in taking over his new duties. Within half an hour after the formal swearing in at Rideau Hall, Mr. Matthews was at his desk in Connaught Building, acquainting himself with the staff.

Mr. Matthews' appointment was a surprise, as he had been in the ministry of natural revenue for only a short time.

Rational Use Of Credit

Premier Pattullo Of British Columbia Would Put Idle To Work

Victoria, B.C.—Rational use of national credit was advocated by Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia for fulfillment of a work and wages program. He suggested unemployment could be materially relieved without a policy of inflation.

"Five thousand single men are being cared for in camps" by the Dominion Government without a work return," Mr. Pattullo continued. "Were the money spent for this purpose turned into a public works program we would be accomplishing something useful and lasting."

"If British Columbia controlled its own credit and customs we could double our population in a short time," the premier declared. "Thirty thousand dollars set aside annually for sinking fund purposes would retire a million dollar loan in 20 years. This province could afford to go beyond several millions of dollars a year and still be solvent."

THE UNLUCKY EGYPTIAN SQUADRON

Perhaps the most "unlucky" formation flight ever undertaken by a squadron of British aeroplanes took place recently when a number of military planes, manned by Egyptian officers, took off from England for Egypt, where they were intended for general purpose duties with the Egyptian Army Air Force.

Shortly after the start of the flight bad weather was encountered and it was only after a fight against tremendous odds that the machines reached their destination. En route one plane crashed, killing the Egyptian officers, and later another machine was forced down with injury to the fliers. Our picture shows the squadron with an Egyptian officer in the foreground.

Fire Takes Four Lives

Parents Trapped With Two Children In Burning Home

Glouce Bay, N.S.—Trapped by an impenetrable wall of fire almost on the threshold of their front door, a house man and wife and two of their children, for whom they sacrificed their lives, were burned to death as roaring flames consumed their two-story frame house.

The four bodies were found within a few feet of what was once their front door—the door through which the mother and father carried two of their children and then raced back in a frantic effort to beat rapidly-spreading flames to the little beds where the other children awaited rescue.

Successfully they battled their way through smoke and flames within sight of the door where Betty, nine, and Buddy, five, who were saved, awakened them. But they were halted by the leaping flames and overcome by smoke.

The fire's origin was not known. The bodies were close together, the mother clasping the body of Josie while Harold was held in his father's death grip.

Low Rates Bring Business

British Railways Find Low Fares Have Increased Revenue

London, Eng.—British railways have found the low two-cent per mile fare originally instituted for summer holiday traffic productive of such an increased revenue they have resolved to maintain them indefinitely.

During the early part of the year passenger receipts were down by nearly $15,000,000 compared with 1922, but with the institution of the two-cent rate came a rapid recovery. Receipts during a recent week, for instance, increased by $500,000 over the same week a year ago.

SOVIET ENVOY AVOIDS MEETING NAZI CHIEFTAIN

Berlin, Germany.—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, of Soviet Russia turned a cold shoulder to the editorial wooing of the Nazi press and departed for Moscow, without seeing either Chancellor Hitler or Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath. The press had indicated a willingness on Germany's part to improve relations with Russia.

Diplomatic circles regarded Litvinoff's failure to contact the German government as an exhibition of studied reserve, almost tantamount to a demonstration.

Further evidence of studied reserve was seen by diplomats in the fact that Litvinoff's visit to Germany en route from Rome to Moscow came at a time when Europe was busy with diplomatic activity as evidenced by the imminent departure of the Czechoslovakian foreign minister, Eduard Benes, for Paris, the Russian commissar's own visit with Mussolini and Foreign Minister von Neurath's report to President Hindenburg on the foreign political situation.

According to reliable sources, Litvinoff was somewhat chagrined that the German press jumped to the conclusion his visit to Rome was connected with an effort to improve Russo-German relations through the mediation of Mussolini.

Fighting Red Propaganda

Post Office Department Co-Operates With Government To Prevent Entry

Ottawa, Ont.—A new drive against a flood of red propaganda said to be sweeping over Canada has been launched by Departments of the Federal Government. The chief publication which Ottawa is determined to keep out is the Moscow Daily News. Reports from several leading cities in Canada, including Winnipeg and Montreal, are to the effect that thousands of copies of this paper are being delivered to Canadian residences through the mails.

This newspaper was banned by the customs department, on the urgent request of the Canadian Mounted Police, some months ago, but measures to prevent its entry have proved ineffective.

The post office department reported that full co-operation would be given to the customs department in the drive. New barriers will be erected at every customs port in Canada. It is explained that the simplest way to stay illegal matter entry to Canada through the mails, is to check up on all imports.

Decreased Demand For Fish

Export From Saskatchewan Badly Affected By N.R.A.

The Pas, Man.—With fish production opening in the eastern department, orders for western fish have slumped. Not only prices, but practically all demand has dropped. So fishermen are freezing their fish hoping for a rise in prices.

According to buyers a few carloads of fish from Alberta are being sold in Canada and the United States. Practically no fish are being shipped from Saskatchewan, compared with other provinces.

There is some movement from Manitoba. But the amount from Manitoba has been cut down greatly. Buyers have ordered operators not to ship to The Pas for southward movement. To the east, the Great Lakes are producing, cutting off the demand from the west.

The National Recovery program of the United States is having an effect on the outlook of fishermen. In the past Chicago and environs have been good markets for northern fish, but under the present program, operators are inclined to view this market as unsettled for some time.

A LITTLE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Newspapers, like all other places of business have their ups and downs to contend with during these troublesome times. At times we feel that some local business men are prone to work against us and for this reason we become irritable and cannot refrain from expressing our feelings through the columns of our paper, in spite of the fact that we try our utmost to fight against such items appearing in print. Often we have written an article while tired and hot under the collar, gone to bed and in the morning got up and after reading it through committed the same article to the wastepaper basket, disgusted with the contents written the night before. Unfortunately, however, there are times when items of a sarcastic nature get into print and we are very sorry afterwards when we have had time to let our brains relax.

The editor of this paper was born some 50 years ago with a fortunate streak of good nature, but there have been times since entering the newspaper field that we have practically lost all the good nature we ever possessed. There are many things which get under the skin of an editor, make us boil to the brim, and when our cup runneth over there's simply h-l popping.

We appreciate the way our local grocery and dry goods merchants have supported us in these trying times—they have stood pat behind us; in return we have stood pat behind them. But, we have felt at times that other local places of business have not only failed to do their part in keeping a newspaper in this town, but at the same time have knocked us to a considerable extent.

Perhaps it is not known that the editor of this paper has turned down hundreds of dollars worth of advertising alone from other places of business in Calgary. Just recently when the C.P.R. offered their cheap rates to Calgary and prior to this event merchants and firms of the city of Calgary flooded us with advertising specials for that week-end, and to be fair with our own town we turned all such advertising down. And again, just recently, we were obliged to turn down a big advertising contract from a large mail order house, a branch of which operates in Calgary. Looking over our exchanges, we find that these ads are appearing in practically every paper between Calgary, Lethbridge and the far south-west corner of the Crows' Nest Pass. Eaton's, The Hudson Bay, Simpson's and other big houses would advertise in the small town weeklies if we were willing to sign a contract, but we refuse to do this—the reason is very easily explained.

It is impossible for any editor to know everything, and there's no editor who wants to fill his paper full of live local items more than the editor of this paper.

Of course we know there are those running around with other men's wives; that men and women are boozing and going for joy-rides, upsetting their automobiles and in general having a high faluting time, all of which would make interesting reading, and our copies would sell for at least 25 cents each, but we don't want to publish this kind of news.

If anyone can run our job better than we can ourselves, let them come right along—the linotype with its 90-character keyboard will be at your service—Try it! It's easy!—Ex.

YOUNG MAN SUCCEDED
TO SLEEPING SICKNESS

The districts of Cardston and Lundbreck have been grieved in the loss of Kenneth Edward Johnson, whose untimely demise occurred at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. James Smith, Lundbreck, on Friday, December 1st, following an attack of sleeping sickness.

The deceased was 25 years of age and was married about two years ago to Miss Kathleen Smith, of Lundbreck. His home has been at Woolford. During his illness he had been for a short time in the Cardston hospital and was then removed to a Calgary hospital and later to Lundbreck to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Besides Mrs. Johnson, a little four-months-old baby son will mourn the loss of his father.

The funeral was held from St. Michael's church, Pincher Creek, at 10 a.m. on Monday, December 4th, and was very largely attended. Rev. Fr. O'Dea, of Cowley, sang the High Requiem Mass, assisted by Rev. Fr. Tessier. Interment was made in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved families.—Pincher Creek Echo.

INLAND PETROLEUM CO.
—ARE OPTIMISTIC

The annual meeting of the Inland Petroleum, Ltd., head office Calgary, was held on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The company operates wells across the Canadian border in Montana, and the report submitted by the secretary-treasurer, A. M. Den-more, showed that one well, which had been producing, dropped in its output, and after being cleaned out showed an increased production, though not up to expectations. The company has two producing wells.

The general operations of the company, compared with others in the field, showed up favorably, though value of leases had depreciated, owing to general conditions of the past three years.

With an improvement in outlook, it was felt the company would stand to gain on its investment, and the policy of the directors was endorsed by the shareholders by unanimous vote. A cash balance of approximately $10,000 was shown on the financial statement, but the directors decided that no dividend would be declared, as this should be held in reserve.

Directors were re-elected as follows: A. M. Morrison, Coleman; George Fisher, Natal, B.C.; E. K. Stewart and Mr. Cox, Fernie; F. M. Thompson, Blairmore; G. E. Cruikshank, M.L.A., Hillcrest, and Arthur M. Denmore, Lundbreck, secretary and manager.

Cardston council has reduced bank indebtedness from $28,000 to $7,000 in less than four years.

A BIT OF HISTORY FROM THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

In response to a query in The Journal two weeks ago as to who had resided long in the town, possibly Frank G. Graham can claim that distinction. He came here in October 1908, built a business block next to the post office, and opened in business in December. He was a heavy loser by fire in 1905, when fire spread from the west end of the street. Alex. Cameron came a year later. Another long time resident is Mrs. Ash, while J. O. C. McDonald is one of the early residents who took an active part in school and municipal affairs.

The Journal has an old photograph of the fire brigade in 1910, with Frank Graham standing out as the chief. Other photos in the same collection are those of James and John Good's ranch, west of Coleman; D. J. McIntyre, postmaster; Dr. Westwood, Eastern Township Bank, now occupied as a junior grade school; Coleman baseball club (moustaches and all), the late Harry Gate, at that time sanitary inspector; L. A. Seller, solicitor; A. M. Morrison, who carries a rather imposing appendage to his name as deputy grand president of Alberta and Saskatchewan Fraternal Order of Eagles; the late W. L. Ouimette, then president of the Board of Trade; J. O. C. McDonald, listed as "one of the City fathers"; J. D. S. Barrett, president of Foothills Job Print and News Co., head office, Coleman; L. A. Manly, prominent member of the Board of Trade; E. Disney, coroner and justice of the peace; W. J. Bartlett, then editor of the Cowley Chronicle and Lundbreck Advertiser; J. A. McDonald, editor of the Blaimore Enterprise and Frank Vindictor; T. B. Brandon, editor-in-chief; E. Johnson, foreman of the composing room; J. Sadler, collector (business must have been good in those days to require a collector) and many other interesting pictures of coal mining plants and buildings.

Coleman appears to have been very active with an enterprising group of business people, quite a number of whom have departed for other fields or who have passed over to the Great Beyond.

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT FOR CHRISTMAS CHEER

Announcement has been made by Tommy Evans, president of the Lethbridge Gryo Club, that a hockey tournament will be staged, sponsored by the Grys, at the Lethbridge arena on Saturday, when the Lethbridge Maple Leafs, Claresholm Derbies, Blaimore Bears and Medicine Hat Monarchs will tangle in a three-game series to decide the pre-season championship of the south.

Three games will be played. The draw will be made immediately prior to the first game. The winners of the first two games will meet in the finals. The games will be 30 minutes, 15 each way, starting at 9.15.

TRIBUTE TO SIR

ARTHUR CURRIE

Montreal, Que., December 11.—The following tribute was paid to the memory of the late Sir Arthur Currie by S. J. Hungerford, acting president of the Canadian National Railways:

"Canada has sustained a tremendous loss in the passing of Sir Arthur Currie. In peace and in war his record was that of a great and noble son of the Dominion which he loved and served so splendidly. His passing will be deeply mourned by Canadians in all walks of life, and more particularly by those who served overseas with him and were thus brought in contact with his qualities of fearless leadership. In the future pages of Canada's history the name of Sir Arthur Currie, educationalist, soldier and one of Canada's leading sons, will occupy an important place."

EDDIE, THE AD MAN

AY, A FELLOW FROM DENVER TELLS ME THERE ARE MORE THAN TWENTY MOUNTAINS IN COLORADO HIGHER THAN Pikes Peak! AND YET SOME FOLKS SAY IT DON'T PAY TO ADVERTISE!

THE ANSWER TO A KNOTTY PROBLEM IN MERCHANDISING

THERE never was a time offering greater opportunity to the resourceful advertiser. This is a day of great news interest—a period when intelligently utilized advertising space will still pay dividends. Yet, how few merchants are using the space they should or saying what they ought to say. Instead, prices are being needlessly cut beyond the reasonable point, and there is a mad scramble to get volume at the cost of profit.

Merchants know there is often a great difference in pulling power between advertisements of the same size. There may be two single page advertisements for the same type store in the same newspaper. One will get the attention of 10% of the readers and the other will be read by 95% of the readers. Both ads cost the same amount of money, yet one delivered 9½ times the readership and, therefore, in terms of possible results, had 9½ times greater opportunity.

Now, what must the advertiser do? He must give more thought to his advertising. He must put over a message every time he advertises. Every word should be thought over carefully. The advertisement should say what you would say when the customer comes into the store.

P.S.—Circulars do not help the reader in permanent ways. And, do you know they wake the greatest public benefactors we have—the newspapers. But, if you need them, The Enterprise is always glad to assist in preparing your circular or bill—and printing it, too.

Ailments Of Old Sol

Astronomer Calls New Cycle Of Spots Solar Bolts

Although Old Sol is a heavenly body, nonetheless it too has its ailments.

Solar bolts.

That was the description given at Santa Clara, California, by Dr. Albert J. Newlin, director of the Ricardo Memorial Observatory, Santa Clara University, in commenting on the new cycle of spots on the sun.

Amper, the disturbances which will be noted by these spots, according to Dr. Newlin, are distorted radio reception, possible disruption of the telephone and telegraph service, and a general lowering of temperatures the world over.

"Those spots have the appearance of huge volcanic cones, or bolts, which belch forth gaseous currents of tremendous heat, producing an effect on earth which manifests itself in disrupting or disturbing magnetic terrestrial conditions," Dr. Newlin said. "The result is a distortion of radio waves and interruption of telephone and telegraph communication."

The cycle under study is a period of about ten or eleven years, reaching its maximum at the fourth or fifth years, and," Dr. Newlin added, "at the cycle's maximum, weather conditions are generally cooler, warming up again as the cycle runs toward its minimum."

Japs Venerate Emperor

The Emperor of Japan—his own people never refer to him as the Mikado—represents what claims to be the oldest of reigning dynasties. Japanese historians declare that after endless ages in higher spheres their Royal family began its earthly history in 660 B.C. Certainly it has held supreme power in Japan since the dawn of history there. It is no wonder that the Emperors have long been—and still are—regarded with religious veneration by their subjects.

Dunkhovor Troubles

Believes Unrest in B.C. Resulted From Internal Controversy

Suggestion - British Columbia's trouble with Dunkhobors, including nude parades, fires, bombing, etc., centered around leadership and areas from internal controversy in the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, is made in a reference to the subject in the annual report of Col. J. H. McFulvin, commissioner of B.C. provincial police.

"Since Peter Veregin left the province," the report states, "we have had no trouble of any kind with the Dunkhobors. It is not suggested the Dunkhovor leader was in any way directing the perpetration of those outrages. On the contrary, our information indicates it is highly improbable he had anything to do with them at all; but the sudden cessation creates a suspicion all Dunkhovor troubles, including nude parades, centered around the leadership and arose from an internal controversy among the directorate of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood."

An Amusing Incident

Boy Readmitted Into Hospital To Meet Royal Visitor

There was an amusing incident during the Duke of Gloucester's tour of the Pontypridd and Rhonda areas of the South Wales coal-field. When he visited the Pontypridd Hospital the Duke chatted with all the 30 patients, including a nine-year-old boy named Teddy Seward. It appears that Teddy's birthday coincided with that of the Prince of Wales and that it had been the ambition of his young life to meet the Prince or some other member of the Royal family. However, he was discharged cured before the Duke's visit, but the nurses readmitted him, and tucked him into bed in order that he might see the Duke.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

LACE COOKIES

- 1 cup sifted cake flour.
- 2½ teaspoons combination baking powder.
- 1 cup sugar.
- 2 egg yolks, well beaten.
- 2 can shredded coconut, moist.
- 3 cups Post Toasties.
- 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.
- 5 tablespoons butter.
- 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, and sift again. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add flour gradually, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla, coconut, and Toasties. Fold in egg whites. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet, spread thin, and bake in hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) 5 to 7 minutes. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

BROWN BETTY

- 3 large apples, pared and thinly sliced.
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon.
- ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed.
- ¼ teaspoon salt.
- ½ cup granulated sugar.
- 5 tablespoons butter.
- ½ cup sifted cake flour.
- ½ cup grape-nuts.

Arrange layer of apples in greased baking dish and sprinkle with mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Cream 4 tablespoons butter, add brown sugar gradually, and cream well. Add flour, sifted with salt, then grape-nuts, stirring well. Spread lightly over apples. Bake, covered, in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 30 minutes; then remove cover and continue baking 15 minutes more, or until apples are tender. Serve warm.

Prominent Pedagogues Of Canada And U.S. Meet At Detroit

Some of the most prominent educationalists of Canada and United States, in deep conference at Detroit, took time enough to watch a pair of their leaders toss harpoons into their own methods.

The harpooning began with an address by Dr. Burgess Johnson, of Syracuse University, who told the National Council of Teachers of English he believed "figures almost invariably lie, and that mathematics is a form of sin."

Then came Dr. Stephen Leacock, famous humorist and economist of McGill University, Montreal, who asserted today's college graduate has been "badly damaged" by his education. He said the trouble lies in the fact that "education, in nine cases out of 10, is not pursued for its own sake."

Bill Instead Of Fortune

Man Wrote About Legacy And Got Tax Notice

England's most disappointed and disillusioned man is J. Moore, of Wandsworth.

Fifty-five years ago his wife's grandmother bought land just outside Melbourne, Australia, and then forgot about it.

Recently Mr. Moore read that a building scheme in the same district had, turned a man who owned land there into a millionaire.

It was a pleasant thought. Mr. Moore posted the original documents of possession to the town clerk at Melbourne and asked for an estimate of the value of the property.

Back came a letter stating that the land had not been built on, and that its value was still £30. Enclosed was a bill for £13.15.

The bill was land tax for 55 years at the rate of five shillings a year!

PAUL IN ROME

Golden Text: "I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."—Philippians 3:14.

Lesson: Acts, Chapters 27, 28.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 23.

Explanations and Comments

The Meeting Of Paul And The Chief Jews Of Rome, verses 17-32.—After resting only three days, Paul summoned the chief Jews in the city to meet him, and told them of his experiences, how, although he had in no way violated the customs of "our fathers," he had been delivered by the Jews of Jerusalem up to Roman authorities as a prisoner. The latter had been ready to set him at liberty, but when the Jews opposed this he had been forced to appeal to Caesar. He had sent for them to tell them this; that because of the hope of Israel, the Messianic hope, he had been sent in chains.

The most difficult task before Paul, the one he naturally most dreaded, was this conference with those Jewish authorities, and this was his first business to which he attended. "Tackle the dread" are the words which hang over a business man's desk. That is good counsel.

The Jews politely answered that they knew no written record of report from Jerusalem concerning Paul; they wished to hear what he had to say, although they knew that this act of speaking of the act of the Nazarenes, Acts 24:5, as they would of the sect of the Sadducees, was everywhere condemned. Why were the Roman Jews so reserved and suspicious? The commonly received theory is that they lived in Rome in a state of great insecurity. They had been banished from Jerusalem, but recently been allowed to return from banishment. Some think the decree of banishment had been occasioned by tumults caused by the unbelieving Jews attacking their Christian fellow-countrymen. They saw Paul respected by imperial officers; they felt themselves obliged to be very careful to avoid all show of disturbance.

Preaching And Teaching In Rome, verses 23-31.—A special day was appointed when special numbers of Jews came to Paul to lodging to hear him. He preached to them, proclaiming the spiritual nature of the Kingdom of God, and the common Jewish belief was in a temporal kingdom, and by recalling the law and to prophesies he endeavored to persuade them concerning Jesus. As always, some believed and some disbelieved.

For two whole years Paul abode in his own hired house, and to all who came to hear him he proclaimed the Kingdom of God, and taught them concerning Jesus, speaking with all boldness, none forbidding him.

It is still hard to get justice and get it quickly. How can judges, jurymen, attorneys-at-law and police officials be Christians? Can the pious sentiments which many of them feel personally and expression in their private lives, be taken into account years to convict Chicago's chief gangster, and in his conviction the courts of the city and state where he resided had no part. Moreover, he was found guilty of minor offences only. The case is flagrant, but not exceptional. Apparently the only thing for good citizens to do is to keep the searchlight of public publicity playing upon judicial machinery and to use the ballot to retire officials who have proved themselves unworthy.—Edward Laird Mills.

That makes 12,000,000 in that class, which is more than the entire population of Canada.

Seeks Influenza Cure

London Doctor Experimenting With Chinese Needle Therapy

Influenza, one of the most baffling diseases of modern times may soon be conquered forever if a startling experiment now being conducted in London by a Harley Street doctor proves successful.

The only thing he is using in these experiments is an ordinary housewife's needle.

With this needle the doctor hopes to prove to the rest of the world that "flu" can be cured within a few minutes.

There is really nothing very new in this idea," he told a reporter, "except as applied to flu."

"But in this direction I think I shall be successful."

"The theory of needle therapy, on which I have based my experiments, is actually of Chinese origin and is nearly five thousand years old."

"The system was recently revived by Dr. P. Foreyrolles, the famous French physician."

"Already needle therapy has treated successfully thousands of hitherto incurable cases of muscular and nervous affections."

"The patients have been relieved from pain within a few seconds after application of the needles, and after a further short period of treatment have been permanently cured."

"Briefly, all that has to be done is to insert needles, preferably made of gold or silver, into the body so that certain nerves or combinations of nerves are pierced for varying lengths of time."

"I am working on the assumption," he said, "that flu is primarily a state of nervous disorder."

"If I can prove this to be so, then it will not be long before needle therapy will be accepted all over the world as the only effective cure for it."

"All I have been able to do up to the present is to remove the symptoms of flu, such as headaches, dizziness, neuralgia and coughs."

"Having got so far, I don't think it will be long before this mysterious disease is completely conquered."

Some Soviet Debts

Russia Has Repudiated More Than Any Other Nation

One of the most interesting expiations of the new recognition of the Soviet by President Roosevelt must be on the debt problem. These debts are not so often mentioned in the U.S. press as those owed by France or Britain. Meantime Russia has repudiated more debts than any other nation. They owed $18,750,000,000 to France, and $3,013,732,030 to Great Britain. Of course, there are more recent debts contracted in trade with Germany. The Prussian Premier Goering said that "more German workers could live if Russia paid her bills." That the soviet government does not pay its bills is obvious. Therefore, is the overdue debt to the United States to the amount of $283,000,000. Is Washington asking recognition of this trifle at all?—Brandon Sun.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt, young and beautiful art student, and Peter Anson, a struggling sculptor, fall in love and marry secretly, deciding to live apart until the time Peter can establish himself. Camilla, the adopted daughter of wealthy parents, is not content with a life of ease. She is preparing herself for life with a course in commercial art, hoping to get a job to enable her to support herself. She has been making the rounds of the agencies. Peter, who is in the studio on an idea for a figure with which he hopes to win a scholarship to study abroad, is called from a beautiful model, Sylvia Todd, who offers to pose for almost nothing if he will employ her. He cannot afford it, but promises to think it over. Peter discusses the matter of a model with Camilla and decides to employ Miss Todd. Foretelling Camilla and Peter decide on their future. They are at the height of their happiness.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XXI.

Sylvia Todd was doing her best to be comfortable in her over-furnished apartment that was just three short blocks from Anson Hall where Peter had his studio. A huge electric fan contributed its tireless efforts in her behalf, collaborating with a sweating bottle of foot ginger ale, a five-pound box of chocolates and a dozen assorted pillows. Evidently, Peter's dollar had expended its usefulness. The telephone jingled at Sylvia's elbow.

She picked up the instrument and drawled languidly, "Yes."

"Miss Todd?" inquired a guarded voice. "What did you do?"

"Say, he wasn't going to enter that exhibit at all," Sylvia's tone was beligerent, as if she suspected that it was not as it appeared on the surface.

"Impossible! He told you that to get rid of you. Didn't you get the work?"

"Wait a minute! Not so fast, or I'll hang up on you. I mean the one who made him reconsider the thing, and I'll bet I get the job. He promised to let me know tomorrow."

"You're sure he wasn't stalling?"

"Not a chance. If he decides to do the work, I'm the model, all right. Leave it to me and call tomorrow night. Say, he even gave me a dollar for my dinner," she laughed triumphantly.

"He would. All right, Miss Todd, I'll call about this same time tomorrow evening."

Sylvia chattered the telephone into place and resumed her sipping of ginger ale with a shrill smile. Her image was reflected in a mirror on the opposite side of the room, for which gratifying purpose the chair's lounge was placed at its particular angle. To that image Sylvia nodded and observed aloud, "Who knows? I may go into this thing on my own interests. He is keener than I expected him to be. But I'll work along with the boss until I see where I stand. Safety first for yours truly."

So Peter began work on his piece for the exhibit. Into it, he put his whole soul and mind, for he was no half-way man about anything he did. Eagerly concerned as she was in his progress, Camilla did not intrude often upon his time and solitude. She never went to the studio during working hours, and most of their time together was given to walks in the park or meeting for dinner to talk things over and absorb new courage and inspiration from their companionship.

Already, Camilla was apprehensive about her own future, because she seemed only to meet with pessimism and panic everywhere. But she gave Peter no hint of her anxiety, and strove to pour out of her encouragement, a larger measure of hope and confidence than she herself possessed. Added to her increasing fear for her own future, was an atmosphere of disapproval and upheaval at the Hoyts. As Camilla staunchly maintained her preference to become independent, Mrs. Hoyt grew more antagonistic to everything she did. It became increasingly difficult for Camilla to see Peter without admitting how much and how often she did see him. That Peter called for her occasionally, Mrs. Hoyt knew; but that Camilla spent hours with Peter which she accounted for vaguely as shopping, a matinee, interviewing employers or driving with the girls, she was not aware.

Still, Camilla was seeing too much of this man who was nobody and had nothing except an ambition. Mrs. Hoyt had concluded that she had forgotten that was original status of all people who really accomplished important things. Her attitude toward Camilla's welfare was an enigma to those who knew the circumstances. Peter had relinquished all responsibility for the girl after her twenty-first birthday, yet was zealous in her efforts to interest Camilla in a marriage which would provide her a fortune.

She began to arrange special opportunities for Terry Wayne's convenience. He was perhaps the most eligible of Camilla's following. He answered favorably all the items on her questionnaire of qualifications.

In July, the Hoyt household removed to their summer home at the Resort Club on the lake shore, which complicated the situation for Camilla in some respects and improved others. She was farther away from Peter, while at the club, but freer when she drove into town on personal errands.

Another twist in Peter's life was his refusal to drive with Camilla, his handsome, charming roadster. Of course, it would be delicious, to sit beside her with the wind blowing against their faces and smothering at their clothes with downy glees, "basking along highways" between shimmering fields and cool, fragrant woods; but it would have to be his own motor car in which they drove. So Camilla did not urge him, and never mentioned the subject again after his first tentative refusal. She understood. But being still Camilla Hoyt in the eyes of the world, she motored about on her own affairs alone, or with the girls occasionally.

It was during the second weekend at the Resort Club that Camilla returned from the city to find the house filled with energetic guests. Gay repartee and laughter floated out to her as she drove to the garage. Her handsome, gleaming sports car, frocks, and bathing suit forms already rolled on the beach.

She approached the veranda with inquiry on her face. Mrs. Hoyt, in her most gracious and graceful manner, offered brightly, "Surprise, my dear. I was afraid it had been rather dull for you out here, so I arranged a little house party for the week-end. All of your best friends are here."

Camilla could not summon even that enthusiasm which she believed the gracious gesture warranted. "That was sweet of you," she said vaguely. "Hello, everyone."

"It must be very warm in town," Mrs. Hoyt was solicitous.

"Warm—like a furnace," Camilla observed.

"Well, come along and get a suit on," ordered Camille Harris. "Some of us were polite enough to wait for you, even though we're sweating in here while the cool waves mock us. Everybody on the beach in five minutes."

"What's the penalty?" demanded Terry Wayne.

"That depends upon who pays it," Camille retorted. "The loser will divide the verdict after the contest." Camilla was poised on the end of the springboard like a winged goddess in her brief scarlet suit, although against the vivid blue of the sky background. Her diving commenced the admiration of every spectator, with a favorable margin, of course, upon the masculine side. It is not easy for any woman to admire any accomplishment of a rival which attracts male attention.

With the encouragement of applause, she performed the whole series of dives: the graceful jack-knife, the difficult backhand, the twist, the corkswim, the hurtling somersault. After the last, she swam slowly out to the float and pulled herself up to rest. Terry immediately followed and joined her.

Ends a Cold SOONER

"That was marvelous," he told her, emerging from the water dripping and white-skinned. "Is there anything you can't do?"

"Don't flatter me, because I've had hours of time to practice diving. I wish I could do something practical."

"You're always practical. Don't you know you're a lot different from the other girls, like Camille and Avis?"

"I hope I am somewhat individual," she said lightly, and plunged suddenly into the water.

Avis lay on the beach. Her bathing suit was scarcely damp. Swimming was much too strenuous, she thought, to be worth the effort. A cooling dip was enough for her. Camilla dropped down beside her, breathing hard after her race with Terry.

"You have a horrible amount of energy," Avis remarked, her tone divided between admiration and disapproval.

"I wish I had something to use it on. I wish I had to be doing things."

"So I've noticed. By the way, have you seen Peter Anson, lately?"

"Capella started, then replied casually, "Oh, occasionally."

"Is he working for the exhibit?"

"I believe he is."

"Why didn't you ask him to the party? He needs this sort of thing if anyone does."

"It happens I am not his keeper, and besides, I didn't do the planning for this party. It was mother's idea entirely."

"So it was. I've a bright idea. Let's drive in and get Peter now. Your mother wouldn't mind, would she?"

"Perhaps not. But I don't think Peter would come."

"Why not?" Avis demanded sharply. "He would if I ask him, I bet."

Camilla decided that it was wiser not to oppose her, and not to be too familiar with Peter's inclinations.

"Ask him if you wish, I don't mind," she said. But she wondered what Peter would do about it. She did wish he were there with them. He needed the rest and change. Perhaps it was just as well if Avis did the persuading. He would be more likely to come, under the circumstances.

"Let's get Terry to drive us in," Avis suggested, jumping up to put her plan to action and displaying the most energy she had shown that day.

Mrs. Hoyt was not too enthusiastic about the addition of Peter to the party, but it seemed to be Avis who wanted him, and she could not refuse to grant a guest's friend her hospitality.

Princes Of The Tower

Inquest Is Conducted Four And A Half Centuries After The Incident

An academic inquest into the deaths of the "Princes in the Tower," conducted four and half centuries after the incident, was said to have confirmed the often-doubted assertion they were murdered by their uncle, Richard III. It was said also to have absolved from blame Henry VII, who downed Richard at the battle of Bosworth on August 22, 1485.

A paper read before the society of antiquaries revealed the inquest had been conducted by Professor William Wright, dean of the London hospital, who was authorized by the dean of Westminster to open the burial urns and examine the bodies of the two princely boys, Edward, Prince of Wales, and the youthful Richard, Duke of York.

Professor Wright estimated the boys' ages at 10 and 12 years, from which he gathered they could not have been alive at the time of the battle of Bosworth and that, therefore, Henry VII, in France until that conflict, could have had no hand in their deaths.

The professor said Edward suffered from a serious dental disease and that a stain of blood across his face bore evidence he had met a violent death.

He said the boys were unusually tall for their ages, one skeleton measuring 4 feet, 9 inches, and the other 4 feet, 6 1/2 inches. He pointed out, however, their father, Edward IV, was three inches over the six-foot mark in height. One of the boys said, in an abnormal test, showing he had "cried his eyes out."

Fishing In Madagascar

Natives Find Living Fishhooks Fine For Purpose

When you go fishing in Madagascar you don't always use a rod and hook, you just get a piece of stout line and a fish called a hamby, all alive and wriggling, and let him do the fishing for you! This strange inhabitant of the sea, is about as long as a man's arm and its back fin is just like a brush, covered with a thin layer of some sticky liquid like gum.

When this brush fastens on to another fish, that unlucky fellow is held fast and secure, and the fisherman who is using the hamby, just hauls in the line, detaches the captured fish, and puts his "swimming hook" in the water again. These "living fishing-hooks" last for years, because the natives keep them in wooden cages, which they fasten in the sea. Needless to say, this useful fish is fed regularly every day by its owner, the chief, fed being rice or small fish. Not only fish, but even turtles are said to be caught in this extraordinary manner.

World Dreads War

Cruelty And Destructiveness Of Last One Too Well Remembered

In spite of the belligerent talk of young men in Germany and other countries who have no personal knowledge and have little understanding of the miseries of the great war, too many have its horrors stamped upon their memory to permit an impetuous young generation to renew, or even make more terrible its cruelty and destructiveness. A burnt world still dreads the fire. The real "preventive war," was waged between 1914 and 1918. If the lesson of that will not prevent a similar holocaust for a long time to come, then statesmanship must be paralyzed the general intelligence made a mockery and religion itself rendered a dead thing.—New York Times.

Spain Well Policed

Secret Service One Of Most Efficient In Europe

Some Spaniards once remarked jokingly that every third man in Spain is a policeman. As a matter of fact, Spain has one of the largest and most efficient secret police forces in Europe, built up by Primo de Rivera, and maintained and strengthened by his successors.

All the criminals and most of the potential criminals in the country are spotted and are arrested when and if the necessity arises. Foreign anarchists and criminals who slip down over the border to Barcelona are most of them well known to the Spanish police.

Perhaps the most interesting aspect of the secret police's work is the political. It is almost literally true that the Minister of Interior hears every political remark of importance that is made in Spain. The government knows pretty well who to have watched, and it is notorious that no group of Spaniards can keep a secret.

Cafe and cabaret girls are said to be paid by the government when they bring in reliable tips. In addition to the Civil Guard, the Security Guards and the municipal police forces, the republic has just added 5,000 assault guards to its roster. They are tall, husky, quick and unafraid. They are drilled in gymnasium tricks and taught that firearms are to be used only as a last resort in any emergency. These assault guards are to be the special police of the republic.

God, I would keep my son as now, So dear, so undeffiled, With innocence upon his brow, A sweet and joyous child!

But since I know that cannot be, May he grow wise and strong, Well-armed in integrity, Relentless foe of wrong.

May he with gladness play his part Within the world of men, With courage ever in his heart, And faith to try again!

But, Father, in his breast I pray Leave one undragging place, Where still a little boy will stay For mother-love's embrace!

Change In Locomotives

Railroad President Promotes That Gas Will Replace Steam

The days of steam locomotive, with its belching smokestack and hissing cylinders, are definitely numbered, in the opinion of Fred Sargent, president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

Single unit gas and electric locomotives of various designs will gradually supplant the iron horse in both suburban and long haul service, Sargent believes. The single unit system is more practical, flexible and economical than either steam or a comprehensive centrifugal electrified system.

"Elaborate studies made by Westinghouse and General Electric show that it would cost at least $60,000, 000 to electrify the three suburban branches of the Northwestern with a fixed power plant system," said Sargent.

"I predict that within eight or ten years, possibly sooner, the gas unit or oil-electric engine, will be so far developed that it will take the place of steam on American railways."

Pools Do Good Business

Claim Business For Fast Crop Season Beyond Expectations

The business results of the western wheat pools for the past crop season have been beyond expectation, with increased percentage of deliveries from pool members and increased patronage from non-pool farmers, delegates to the Alberta wheat pool annual meeting at Calgary were informed.

The information was contained in the directors' report of the Canadian Co-Operative Wheat Producers' Limited, central selling agency for the pools. Figures for the season's business were not made public.

The report dealt with the present unsatisfactory agricultural situation and excessive surpluses. It also dealt with the London wheat agreement, reiterating the directors' stand for establishment of a national marketing board to facilitate the successful carrying out of the conference agreement.

The famous Dead Sea of Biblical history, now owned jointly by Palestine and Trans-Jordan, is estimated to contain 45,000 million metric tons of chemical salts.

Little Helps For This Week

"Are they not all ministering spirits?"—Hebrews 1:14.

May I reach That purest heaven, be to other souls The cup of strength in some great agony, Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure love, Be the sweet presence of a good friend, And in diffusion ever more intense, So shall I join the choir invisible Whose music is the gladness of the world.—George Eliot.

Certainly in our own little sphere it is not the most active people to whom we owe the most. Among the common people whom we know it is not necessarily those who are busiest, those who are ever on the run after some visible change and work. It is the lives like the stars which pour down on us the calm light of their bright and faithful being to whom we look up, and to whom we look for the deepest calm and courage. It seems to me there is there a reassurance for many of us who seem to have no chance for active usefulness. We can do nothing for our fellow-man. But still it is good to know we can do something for them, to know (and this we may know surely) that no man or woman of the humblest sort can really be pure, strong, gentle and good, without the world being better for it, and without somebody being helped and comforted by the very existence of that goodness.—Phillips Brooks.

A Designer Of Types

Goudy Has Created Eighty-Seven Different Fonts

Frederick W. Goudy, at sixty-eight, is known as the greatest living designer of types and the most prolific in the world's history. Altogether he has created eighty-seven different fonts of type. Until he was thirty-five he was an obscure bookkeeper. His wife, Bertha Goudy, is his chief collaborator. Together they maintain the thirty-year-old Village Press at Marlborough-on-the-Hudson, one of the few private presses still in existence.

New German Oath

A new military oath "in harmony with the new state," has been authorized by the German cabinet. It reads: "I swear by God and this holy oath that I shall loyally and honorably serve the people and the fatherland always, and that as an obedient and courageous soldier I shall be ready at all times to sacrifice my life for this oath."

A general meeting of the Blairmore Business Men's Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Scout hall, attended by seventeen representatives of local business concerns. The meeting was addressed by His Worship Mayor Knight, and was presided over by the president, L. L. Morgan. The meeting expressed a desire for co-operation between the business people of the town and the council, but were opposed to the unreasonable imposition of the business tax at this time. His Worship promised to take the matter up with his council, but could give no promise as to the results.

The regular meeting of the Crown's Nest Pass District Trustees' Association, held at Frank school on Thursday evening last was well attended. Important matters, such as teaching of music in the schools, accident insurance and soldier club taxation, were discussed. The next meeting is to be held in Blairmore in March, 1934, when it is expected to have some prominent speakers present to address the members. Questions and resolutions relative to taxes, assessment and appeal will be prepared and presented to the annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees' Association in Calgary in February.

Local and General Items

The Editor will be pleased to receive items for this section, regarding visitors entertained, parties leaving for holidays or short trips, bridge parties, teas, etc. Phone items in to 11 or hand them in at The Enterprise office no later than Wednesday evenings.

Mrs. W. O. Evans returned from Calgary on Monday night, accompanied by her son Albert.

J. S. Kirkham has been elected a member of the Lethbridge public school board.

Mayor I. Bullivant was re-elected to that office at Medicine Hat, to serve a fifth term.

James Milne left on Monday last to join Mrs. Milne at Magrath, where they will reside for a while.

A TEA will be held under the auspices of the Y.P.S. in the United church auditorium, on Saturday, December 16th, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beck, of Fernie, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Beck, of Coleman, were visitors to Bellevue and Lethbridge on Saturday last.

Around $100 was subscribed by the business men of Blairmore towards the proposed $550 Christmas hamper fund for the unemployed families.

Alex. Cameron and family were down from Staveland over the week end, renewing acquaintances here. While in town, they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch McKinnon.

Yowzie! The Elks' will hold their annual New Year's dance-frolic on January 1st in the Columbus Hall. It will be your hard luck if you miss it.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyons, who moved to Blairmore recently from Macleod, have taken up residence on State Street, between 8th and 9th avenues. Mr. Lyon is local agent for Rawleigh's products.

Fred Holmes returned to town Sunday night from Okotoks, where he had been to attend the funeral of his sister, Miss Frances Christine Holmes. Among the many beautiful floral tributes announced was one from the Boys of Blairmore.

Brother, can you spare a dime. That's all the tickets cost for the Elks' annual turkey draw. Twenty turkeys for twenty prizes and the draw will be held at the close of the show at the Orpheum theatre on Friday, December 22nd. Get your tickets now.

To enforce collection of the business tax, writs were issued on Monday against The Blairmore Enterprise, A. E. Ferguson, F. M. Thompson Co., Greenhill Store, & G. Hannan, J. E. Gillis and one other. Protests against seizure have been filed with the sheriff at Macleod, and the by-law will likely be tested in court.

To be of assistance to Christmas shoppers, Blairmore merchants will keep their stores open until 5.30 on Wednesday afternoon and until 9 o'clock on Thursday and Friday nights of next week. Stores will be closed the day following Christmas, Tuesday, December 26th, but will remain open until 5.30 p.m. on Wednesday, the 27th.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock, in the council chamber, there will be a general meeting in connection with the Christmas Hamper Fund. Representatives of all groups and organizations are requested to attend this meeting so that all cases of need may be brought to the attention of the committee.—A. E. Larke, secretary-treasurer of Christmas Cheer Committee.

James A. Reid, father of Mrs. Frank Wheatley, junior, died at Banff on Friday last, aged sixty years. Mr. Reid is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Wheatley, and two grandchildren, Frank and Muriel. Mr. Reid was born in Ontario and came west to Banff twenty-seven years ago, and twenty years ago opened the Reid funeral home there, which he operated until a few months ago. The remains were laid to rest at Banff.

Mr. C. Larbalestier, secretary-treasurer of the Town of Blairmore, has decided to take up residence in Blairmore. Mrs. Larbalestier and young son, of Calgary, will join him here shortly.

Harry Meade will again this year have his Christmas tree in front of his bakery, which with its string of colored lights adds materially to the Christmasy spirit and decoration on Bellevue's main thoroughfare each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barattelli celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Saturday last. There were thirty-five guests present. The evening was spent in playing cards, games and dancing till the wee hours of the morning.

Search for Alex. Sherwood, Fernie hunter, lost in the woods near Galway, B.C., on Sunday last, has so far been fruitless. Sherwood is 35 years of age and son-in-law of J. Foster, of the Trites-Wood Co. staff at Fernie.

Two young local lads pulled what they thought to be a clever stunt last week end, when they phoned a Bellevue taxi to come quickly to the Blairmore hospital. When the taxi arrived the driver was met promptly with a scare that set him thinking. The police were notified and the two lads were placed under arrest.

The Blairmore town council has paid over another hundred dollars towards the promised grant to the Blairmore public library. This library can be made use of by Blairmore citizens, irrespective of whether they are miners or anything else. It is a local public institution.
